

Firearm inventory record

One row per firearm. A complete record helps with recovery and insurance if the worst happens. Store the completed page like a document worth stealing.

Storage: keep this record on an encrypted disk or in a locked place, with one backup somewhere that survives a house fire. Serial numbers are the sensitive part. From armanac.com/firearm-inventory-template. The official ATF Personal Firearms Record (P 3312.8) is a free alternative that covers similar ground.
